Black XS for women

The Black XS twosome is back in the limelight with a new composition—Black XS Body Spray. Paco Rabanne has once again outsmarted convention with its usual daring and accentuated the provocative spirit of this rock and rebel pairing.

For men and women, Black XS Body Spray offers a new user body language for fresh perfuming.

The spray bottle sports a black lacquer finish. The tops—a transparent garnet finish for women, grey for men—echo the color codes of the original fragrances. The rose, emblematic symbol of Black XS, is featured at the center of the bottle.

Black XS for men brings out the top notes of Calabrian lemon, Calamansi, tagete and sage deliver freshness and freedom. Praline, cinnamon, tolu balsam and black cardamom combine to create heart note temptation. But the bottom notes are where Black XS unveils its full potency through harmonies of rosewood, cedar, black amber and patchouli.

The first notes of Black XS for women—pink peppercorn, tamarind blossom, cranberry—glow and sparkle. Black violet, hellebore rose and cocoa blossom bring charm to the heart. The composition of Black XS for women then turns vibrant with audacity in the base notes through Massoia wood, patchouli and black vanilla. Black XS is now available at the Parfumerie.
