

Colombo Court Hotel and Spa recognised

Posted on

Colombo Court Hotel and Spa promises a relaxing stay

The Colombo Court Hotel and Spa was recognised as a winner of the TripAdvisor Travellers' Choice Awards for Hotels, ranking it as one of the top 25 hotels in Sri Lanka.

TripAdvisor for the 16th year has highlighted the world's top properties based on the millions of reviews and options collected in a single year from travellers around the globe. Winners were identified under the categories such as Bargain, B&Bs and Inn, Luxury, Service and Small Hotels. The nail marks of traveller's choice winners are remarkable service, quality and value.

TripAdvisor is considered as one of the world's top review sites, which is used as a platform for guests and clients to voice their opinions on places they have visited. The site offers a chance for people to see an organisation from the perspective of its clients, rather than from the perspective of the Hotel itself. Trip Advisor reviews provide customers an actual view on products and services, more of experiences rather than just promoting a place or a product.

Colombo Court Hotel and Spa, South Asia's first Carbon Neutral City Hotel, is an urban boutique hotel, where contemporary strokes of art meet rustic charm. With open Courtyard and water bodies, the hotel boasts Deluxe, Superior Deluxe Rooms and Suites each uniquely designed and stocked with all the necessary amenities.

This is Colombo Court Hotel and Spa's third consecutive Traveller's Choice Award, though the hotel has been awarded TripAdvisor's certificate of excellence annually since its inception.