WHAT'S ON

ART

Adrift

Till October 12
Piercing the canvas with a deafening silence, the memory of departure shapes Anushya Sundaralingam's contemplations on estrangement. Adrift wanders through the squagmire of migration prompted by civil unrest with a poetic lens.
Sankha Fernando Gallery

My Environment

Till October 16
'My Environment' is a reflection of coastal village life - an interplay of yin and yang. Kalupahana captures its warmth, rhythm and kinship in a compelling visual narrative. The exhibition comprises of figure drawings and works on canvas.
Paradise Road Gallery, Colombo 3. 10am-midnight, Daily (art@paradiseroad.lk)

Sankhāra: an exhibition of Ceramic Sculpture

October 18 - 23
In Pāli, sankhāra speaks of "formations" — the countless volitional strings of the mind, layered moment by moment from the time of birth. Thoughts, fleeting and weighty, conscious and unconscious, accumulate and dissolve, leaving traces upon the self. This work seeks to make visible what is otherwise intangible. The simplified figure embodies life itself — our endless striving toward contentment, our adornment with achievements, and our quiet recognition that peace remains elusive. The figure entwines with an abstracted vessel, symbolizing the mind's formations. Though these vessels seem solid, they hold only emptiness. When the layers of thought are stripped away, what remains is jāyatā — the luminous emptiness at the heart of being. This collection is an offering, a meditation on becoming, seeking, and the profound stillness discovered within nothingness.
Canada Art Space, Colombo 5. 10am-5pm

Art and Jazz on the Street

October 22 and 26
Farway Colombo features a monthly art and jazz event, featuring an exciting line-up of art on display, jazz music, and food and beverages to unwind.
Farway Colombo: 10am-10pm

Butterflies are Free

October 25 and 26
In a world defined by various boundaries, 'Butterflies are Free' invites reflection on freedom through an exhibition featuring over 22 children and 20 adults. The butterfly symbolizes both fragility and fearlessness, with curator Rihani Rambakawelle stating, "Butterflies don't ask for permission to be beautiful. They just are." The exhibition encourages unrestricted artistic expression, exploring freedom in thought, identity, and convention. Butterflies play a vital ecological role, much like artists who spread empathy through their work. 'Butterflies are Free' celebrates resilience, liberation, and the transformative power of creativity.
Lionel Wroth

Of Leaves, Feathers and Fins

Till October 31
Quiet intricacies of the natural world, its patterns, textures and transience unfold here in drawings, paintings, and Gotakau prints. They invite us to look closely at the veining of a leaf, a feather's structure, or the fin's imprint. More than representations, these works are meditations on attention asking us to pause, notice, and find stillness within the rhythms of the living world.
An exhibition by Lester Perera, curated by Sadev Wimalathilaka.
The Royal Art Gallery: 11.30am-10pm, Daily

Art by TVS Menaka

Daily
Discover the vibrant sculptures and modern abstract artworks of Sri Lankan artist TVS Menaka. Twenty percent of every sale helps care for Sri Lanka's street dogs and cats through The Hope Foundation.
Lond Art Gallery, Londs Restaurant Complex, Negombo Beach. Open Daily: 12 noon - 11pm

Impermanence

October 30 - November 12
Preet's Hapuwatte and Nelan Harasigama begin by recognizing that life is constantly in flux. In this exhibition, they explore the subtle shifts and the sweeping transformations that shape human experience. Their attention rests on the tensions between presence and absence, the fleeting beauty of a moment, the losses woven into change, and the quiet resilience that emerges in its wake. Through layered colors, shifting forms, and textures that simultaneously reveal and obscure, the artists invite us to encounter impermanence — not as something to resist or mourn, but as something to embrace. Their works become a visual record of navigating the cycles of becoming and letting go in a world preoccupied with permanence. Hapuwatte and Harasigama celebrate instead the beauty of what cannot be grasped, honoring the ever-evolving nature of life — always in motion, never still.
Rovefort Art Gallery

Dance

Pini Podu Wessak

October 26

The Nutcracker

October 21, November 1 and 2
Deanna School of Dancing presents The Nutcracker, produced and directed by Natasha and Natalie Jayasinghe. This beloved ballet, set to Tchaikovsky's music, tells the story of Clara, who receives a Nutcracker doll for Christmas. That night, the Nutcracker comes to life, battles the Mouse King, and transforms into a prince, taking Clara on a magical journey through the Kingdom of Sweets, where they are entertained by the Sugar Plum Fairy and enchanting dances. The ballet concludes with Clara waking up, leaving audiences to wonder if it was all a dream.
