

Galle Face Hotel Launches Meetings, Seminar And Conference Centre

One of the seven conference rooms

Galle Face Hotel amidst extensive restoration, opens doors to a new meetings and conference centre on July 1, 2014, which will comprise of seven conference rooms, a library and two study rooms. The hotel's ability to accommodate one large group or several small groups simultaneously offers planners exceptional space versatility and functionality.

"As we complete milestones on the restoration project we will bring a series of new products to the market. The first of these products is "meet...discuss...succeed". We have re-defined a purpose-built meetings, seminar, conference centre and boardrooms dedicated to small to medium events focused on facilitating great outcomes. This product has been developed to meet the need for a 'business' focused facility. It recognises that efficiency, comfort and support from a venue will allow participants to focus on their goals," says Tony Fleming, Group General Manager - Galle Face Hotel.

The product includes an energy booster on arrival, coffee breaks at "The Café", a contemporary private coffee shop, gourmet lunch at the restaurant, ergonomic high back conference chairs and uniquely designed working desks, state-of-the-art equipment including multimedia projection, built-in sound system, wireless clip-on mics, and free Wi-Fi, in-room refreshments with espresso coffee machine throughout the meeting and a dedicated 'conference concierge' assigned to each meeting.
