

GMT 's chic showroom displays many branded watches

A collection of Hugo Boss watches

The most recent venture by the Royal Lanka Agencies, GMT unveiled its exclusive branded wristwatch store at Majestic City, Colombo 4. A large collection of globally renowned watch brands are showcased in this chic, modern, black-and-white themed showroom.

The store was opened under the patronage of Chief Guest Sebastian Lukose, Head of Merchandising, South Asian Region, Raymond Weil and the Proprietors of GMT, A D A Jawzi and A D A Jezmi. The main focus of GMT is to create a concept of affordable designs to its customers hence the store has a trendy collection of watches for a variety of prices: from mid-range brands to simple yet elegant and stylish watches. While the glass displays at the GMT showroom are dedicated to branded and special edition timepieces, GMT caters to the needs of its customers in search of a high quality, timeless purchase that makes a certain fashion statement.

GMT displays watches from various brands such as Hugo Boss, Victorinox, Swiss Military, Police, Timberland, Maserati, Raymond Weil, 88 Rue du Rhone, Earnshaw, James McCabe, AVI-8, Sector, Lee, Lacoste and Pepe Jeans.

These brands have their own lines of patrons to whom GMT promises only the best in terms of quality and service. With the urban youth especially in mind, GMT offers fashionable styles in watches to Colombo's shoppers.

Sebastian Lukose, Head of Merchandising, South Asian Region, Raymond Weil and Thusitha Wijayasena, Chairman and MD, Property Finance Investment at the opening of GMT

