The Instaclean portable air purifier

Instaclean, a creation of Faraday Ozone Products, is an innovative portable air purifier that can eliminate any odour with the use of ozone. The product can be used in hospitals, offices, hotels, homes, labs and public places. Through a simple practice of circulating ozone, it can wipe out strong odours or micro organisms in one hour in a room size extending up to 5000sqft.

The device, which comes in two models, AS100 and AS50, has a timer. Through a completely natural process of purification, it destroys all odours, bacteria, viruses and sanitises the place. It also removes allergy causing pollens, microbes, moulds and mildew. With a high speed blower to cover long distances, the device is compact and could be handheld.
