Jewel Laurel Now Caters To Its Canadian Customers

Posted on

Two of the pieces from Jewel Laurel’s collection

Staying true to its corporate vision, Jewel Laurel recently expanded the organisation’s international network to Canada. With the recent launch of Jewel Laurel Canada, along with its very own official website, Jewel Laurel now caters to an integral component of its global customer base in Calgary and Toronto.

Speaking at a press conference to promote Jewel Laurel – Canada, A D A Jawzi, Jewel Laurel’s Managing Director said, “Customer satisfaction being our prime focus, we utilise the most professional standards presently practiced in the global arena. We regularly brainstorm ideas to arrive at exquisite new designs with regards to our jewellery range and to find creative and innovative ways by which to improve our existing portfolio.”