The Kingsbury honours senior citizens with mobile health clinic

As a responsible corporate citizen, The Kingsbury has set forth to honour senior citizens of Sri Lanka by way of conducting a mobile health clinic at the hotel’s car park premises.

These senior citizens who have been of service to the country for so long are now somewhat neglected as they are no longer able to contribute in the same capacity. Especially those from low income families have financial difficulties in obtaining the necessary medical treatment and logistical issues in getting to a government hospital.

The Kingsbury reached out to these senior citizens in a gesture of gratitude for their countless contributions to our society.
