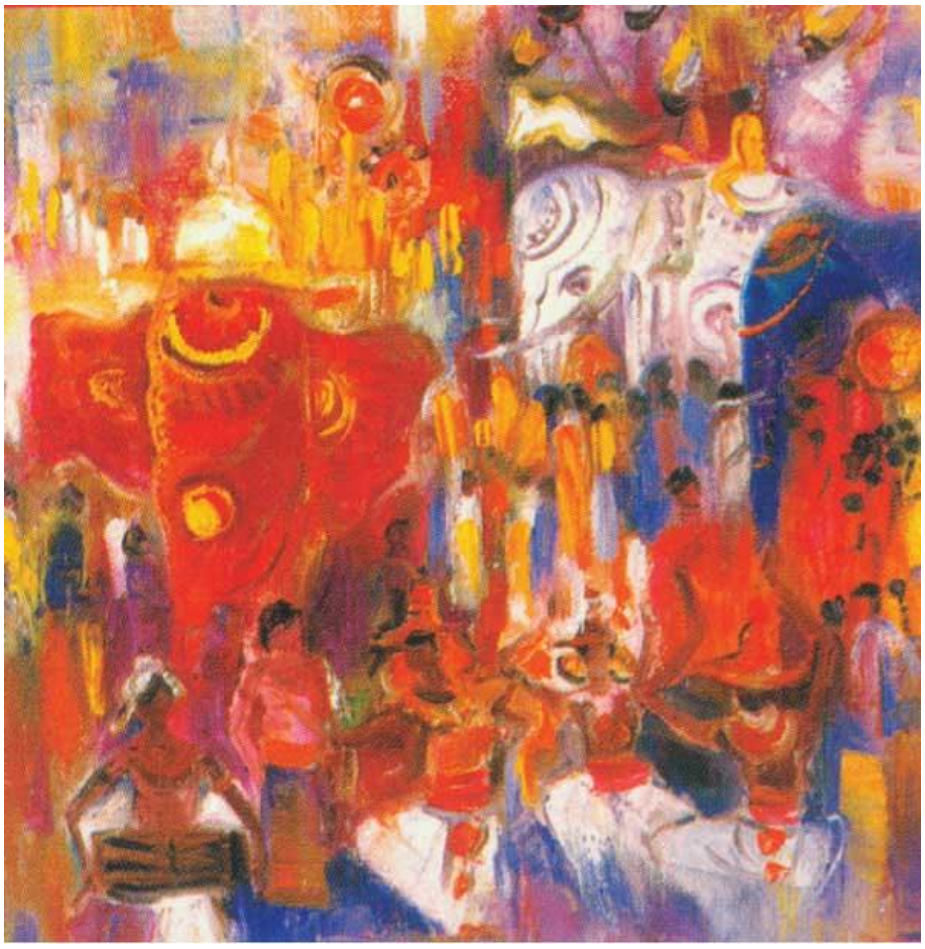
Marie Alles Fernando – An Enduring Talent

Posted on



A painting of the Kandy Perehera – 2012, done by Marie Alles Fernando

Trees are among Marie Alles Fernando’s, characteristic themes and she projects their many shapes and forms in her art. There are among her characteristic themes and she projects many shapes and forms in her art. Always experimenting to create a fresh ambience, Marie uses unexpected colours that stir and enrich the imagination and she travels widely to expand the physical horizons of her art. Her travels include places such as India, Nepal, China and many places within the isle of Sri Lanka. Marie’s’ art is vibrant with many colours that portray unique characteristics of each place that she has travelled to, bringing out many different arrays of emotion and aptitudes.

As an artist who has pursued her vocation with tireless persistence over many years and held exhibitions in different countries, Marie deserves all the support and appreciation that Sri Lanka’s leading landscape painter deserves.
