Mobitel Unveils Nokia 105 Featuring Sinhala and Tamil Language Support

Posted on

The National Mobile Service Provider Sri Lanka Telecom Mobitel announced its strategic partnership with the Nokia Corporation to provide a tailor-made package for the new Nokia 105 mobile device.

Nokia 105 is the latest addition to an extensive mobile phone portfolio and its first Ultra Low Cost Handset (ULCH) sporting a price tag of 2,990 rupees, making it the lowest priced Nokia phone ever. This ‘good looking’ handset is sure to be a hit in the local market with its user-friendly interface and unbeatable battery standby time lasting up to impressive 35 days. Key features include Sinhala and Tamil keypad options including entertainment features such as FM radio, preloaded games, a speaking clock and a flashlight. A one year warranty on the Nokia 105, and a six month guarantee are on offer for related accessories.

Mobitel will add value to the Nokia 105 with a special pre-paid package that offers a bundle of free 30 minutes from Mobitel-to-Mobitel, one mTune free for a month and 150 free Mobitel-to-Mobitel SMSs [conditions apply].

This collaboration between Mobitel and Nokia is an innovative venture embarked towards bringing the latest technology closer to the Sri Lankan consumer. Nokia 105 is created with the needs of the Asian users in perspective.
