A dab of blue, a stroke of pink and a few perky white polka dots to finish it off… of course the subject here isn’t about painting a picture on an easel, although not too far from it, the OPI Nail Studio, is your artiste, equipped with the latest trend setting styles in nail colour, care and nail art techniques.

“Nail art is fast becoming a popular choice in fashion statements. In other words, it has become an expression of style and appearance. That’s where we step in,” said Nirosha Jagodaarachchi, Director – Technical The team at OPI Nail Studio is internationally qualified in following the latest techniques in the nail art culture. “In this continually growing industry, you have to be on top of your game and that is how we keep our customers coming back.” With 200 plus nail colours to choose from, at OPI Nail Studio, whether you prefer the gel colours, some shades of liquid sand, maybe a splash of ‘The Man With The Golden Gun’, as your 18 carat gold top coat from the ‘Sky Fall’collection, the choices are endless. “We are full of colour,” adds Nirosha Jagodaarachchi.

In the hopes of looking your best, you may fall into a bit of contemplation with whether you should try the ‘Pompeii Purple’ or the ‘Bubble Bath’, or even a swish of ‘Russian Navy’, and then how about a little ‘Pink Before You Leap’? Rest assured, your characteristic nail care regime is incorporated with carefully selected and unique proponents that doesn’t just extenuate the beauty of your hands and feet, but leaves them feeling healthy and looking vibrant.

British Cosmetics’ OPI patents many treatments in addition to the countless nail colours available at the Studio. These treatments include nail enhancers, nail strengtheners, cuticle oils, special masks to penetrate into and renew skin texture, enhance complexion and eliminate dead skin. “We are a green family because besides the colours, there are other benefits,” commends Nirosha Jagodaarachchi. Whether it’s just a one off service that you want or day of pampering, OPI Nail Studio conceptualises your personality through the expression of their expertise. Nirosha Jagodaarachchi continues, “we get involved with fashion and when we bring products with international standards into the country, we need to know the whole scenario behind the concept.” As their motto goes, “Always we care for your wellbeing.” And that’s a fact!
