

Poson Pōya is the day of establishing the Buddha sānaya in Sri Lanka.

Poson poya marks the significant event of receiving the Buddha Dhamma, the greatest ever gift we got as a nation.

Vesak is celebrated by Buddhists around the whole world but Poson Poṇya is of interest only to Sri Lankans, as Arhat Mahaṇ Mahinda Thero, the only son of the King great Dharmaṇ oṇka or Asoṇka of India who was known as ‘Anu Budu’ in the folk tale, was sent by the King Asoka as a Dharma duṭta (envoys) to introduce Buddhism to Sri Lanka at the request of his friend, king Deṇvaṇnampiya Tissa. At that time in Sri Lanka, according to Chronicles, the first meeting of Mahinda Mahaṇ Thero and Deṇvaṇnampiya Tissa took place on the Missaka pabbata, now known as Mihintaleṇ, on a Poson Poṇya day (While Lord Buddha arrived in Kelaniya on a Vesak Poṇya day.)

Accordingly, we in Sri Lanka started celebrating this Poson Poṇya as a special day of establishing the Buddha Saṇsana. So, what is ‘Buddha Saṇsana’? As described in the ‘Paṇli-Sinhala Dictionary’ 385-P, of Venerable, Maditiyawela Siri Sumangala Thera, it means “Buddhaṇnusaṇsanaṇ (Buddhassa Anusaṇsanaṇ) or Buddhism or Buddhist doctrine or Thipitaka Dharmaṇ”. In addition to this, it is mentioned as “the teaching (instructions) of the Buddha “ - in Paṇli-English Dictionary, 113-P, of T.W. Rhys Davids, the Paṇli-Text Society,

London, what is intended by the name of 'Buddha Saṁsana' in Buddhist literature; in Paṭi, it is illustrated as follows :

"Sabba Paṭpassa. Akerenan.

kusalassa. upasampa.dā

sachitta. pariyoḍapanan.

eṭtan. Buddhana.saṁsanān."

It defines as: the prevention of doing all evils, developing the virtuous, and controlling the mind, is the advice of The Buddha.

Fulfilling this advisory of the Buddha, Arhat Mahinda Thero, intended to deliver the Dharma to the King. But, he skepticized again whether the King could realize this profound Dharma. Then, the Thero wanted to test the King's intelligence in understanding the Dharma. This is mentioned in the 'History of Buddhism in Ceylon' 50-P, by Venerable Dr. Walpola Raṭhula Thero, Buddhist Cultural Centre, Dehiwala, as: "During their first conversation, Mahinda Thero, to gauge the king's intelligence and capacity to understand, put some questions to him ... though simple and easy at first glance, it required a clear and acute mind to answer it." The King answered all the questions correctly. That brought home to the Thero that the King was an intelligent person and he could understand the Dharma. This is the general belief regarding the arrival of Arhat Mahinda in Sri Lanka. But Ven. Raṭhula Thero criticizes it in his book, mentioned above as:

"Although this may be regarded as the official introduction of Buddhism to Ceylon, it is not reasonable to believe that information about the Buddha and his teachings and the news of the activities of the mighty Buddhist Emperor of India had not reached the Island earlier."

According to the questions asked by the Arhat Thero, and folk tales, we can understand that the King had heard about the Buddha and His teachings before the arrival of Arhat Thero in Sri Lanka. To my mind, I see the pattern of most people in this world is the argument about history, religion, or beliefs. But unfortunately, they do not like to do anything for the sake of their knowledge or to produce anything. Just they criticize others and their works. This is the pattern of Sri Lankans. It is said, 'hear it-see it-do it, the goal is there.'

Despite that, what was taught to us by Arhat Mahinda Thero? That teaching is described in the Cuḷahatthipadopama-sutta, the first sermon delivered by the Thero.

This sermon gives a clear idea of The Lord Buddha, The Dhamma, and The Sangha, and describes how one becomes a Bhikkhu or Buddhist by understanding the Dharma, but not by forcefully converting. It also describes the simple and holy life of a Bhikkhu and a Buddhist and the sublime qualities he practices and possesses. Except that, the things he abstains from and the various stages of development of his life, and the attainment of arhantship, which is the final fruit of a Buddhist.

We must first understand ourselves, our lives, and about sadness and happiness. Sorrow or dukkha come about, how it is common to everyone in the world, the problem is misunderstanding it. We must see the reality as it is to understand the reality of life. Today, we have to understand the whole society to lead a good life as it is in a chaotic state. On this Poson Pōya day, we can follow the path of The Dhamma, which we were given by the Arhat Maho Mahinda Thero for the sake of us and others, with the Compassion and Metta. I wish for a calm and prosperous future for all in the world.

Thousands of devotees pay homage to the Mihintale Aradhana Gala on Poson Poya.
