Redbanana.lk offers new way of shopping

Posted on

redbanana.lk is a premium online supermarket which also offers a mobile version for smartphone users. They were the first to introduce mobile-based shopping in Sri Lanka with the redbanana.lk 4.1 version android app which can be downloaded from Google play and Samsung app store.

While other online websites charge an additional fee on consumer products, redbanana.lk sells all their products at the existing market rates without any hidden charges. It’s also a multi-lingual site with 65 different national languages approved by Google translate.

With 63 categories and over 3,000 products ranging from baby care to household items, personal care and groceries, redbanana.lk provides all the products you would usually find in a supermarket, but allowing you to shop at home without the hassle of travelling to the store. Goods ordered on redbanana.lk will be delivered the following day at the customer’s preferred time, with no additional delivery charge. Orders can be tracked online, and registered users can also track their ordering patterns and previous orders.

For health conscious customers, it will be interesting to note that redbanana.lk is the only online supermarket which specialises in selling organic vegetables, fruits, and free range chicken on special request.

Giving customers a great deal, redbanana.lk offers customers the ease of paying upon delivery, in cash or by credit card.
