

Turret showcases luxury brands for the discerning

Posted on

The stylish Turret outlet at the WTC

Turret, an exclusive designer outlet specialised in the sale of luxury products including watches, writing instruments and leather accessories held a promotion at their latest outlet at the World Trade Centre (WTC).

Some of the top global luxury brands such as Montblanc, Baume & Mercier and Raymond Weil were on display.

This promotional extravaganza allowed existing and potential customers to check out the wide range of products available in the store and treat themselves to a luxury retail therapy experience. The epitome of luxury shopping, Turret offers its sophisticated clientele an array of world-renowned brands. Being named as the 'authorised retailer' by many such renowned brands, Turret is the only designer outlet in the city that has become a one-stop shop for luxury shopping.

“Over the years since our inception, Turret as a brand has reached out to a

Turret showcases luxury brands for the discerning

discerning set of clientele in Sri Lanka. Our focus for providing a quality product with attention to customer satisfaction is the key value that sets us apart clearly”, said Faizal Mahuroof, Head of Sales and Marketing, Turret. Every single item at Turret is specially imported from Switzerland and all of the service personnel are trained professionally to offer customers a world-class service.