Part of the Valentine’s collection at Jewel Laurel

Having catered to the 2011 fall tourist season, Jewel Laurel is gearing up for some super attractions for this Valentine’s in true romantic splendour. With a special seasonal price discount during the month of February and armed with an eye-catching array of Sapphires, Rubies, Cats-eyes, Moonstones and all other types of natural and genuine gemstones hailing directly from the deep gem mines of rural Sri Lanka, Jewel Laurel is preparing to design and manufacture a range of gem-studded jewellery according to the sophisticated tastes and preferences of its esteemed clientele. Therefore, the month of February will have Jewel Laurel’s team of in-house lapidarists busy, cutting and polishing these precious stones to perfection to titillate the minds of trendy customers – both young and the young at heart – who seek nothing but the finest quality for their special Valentine at a modest and affordable price.
